

PROJECT MANAGER

£45,492 per annum Ref: 070423/000

Interactive Digital Media (IDM)

UCE Birmingham, AWM Innovation Technology Council funded project

This post is fixed purpose for 12 months (extendable to 15 months)

This IDM project arises from work by the West Midlands Regional Development Agency, AWM, which identified a window of opportunity in the West Midlands to develop the regions existing capacity in interactive digital media and in the emerging markets of Serious Games, and to establish it as a national leader in these fields.

A Project Manager is required to lead on the delivery of this Interactive Digital Media project, develop suitable processes and procedures to ensure the successful engagement with business and ensure the work of the project becomes sustainable beyond the lifetime of the project.

The project requires an experienced project manager, with significant work experience in Digital Media sectors and an excellent understanding of the emerging discipline and industry sector of Serious Games, to lead on UCE Birmingham's delivery of this Regional Development Agency (AWM) funded project in Interactive Digital Media. You will possess strong project management skills, successful experience of delivering regional impact programmes, evidence of developing innovative ideas and successful partnership collaborations.
