Data is counted from April to March

Although Anti-Terrorist Hotline has been in existence since 1991 data is not held prior to 2002/3.

Data is generated by the telephony system. Where no data has been returned, this is as a result of system changes disrupting counting processes for that period. This mostly effected 2005/6 when, despite returning the highest figures, the numbers of calls would have been even higher.

The occasional peaks are, generally, caused by responses to specific events or Anti-Terrorist media campaigns.
